Gentlemen:

I received your gift of cigarettes yesterday and you may rest assured that they certainly were appreciated very much. Most of my buddies are surprised that schools have such organizations as the Bryant Service Club, but think it is a grand idea. They only wish that their schools would remember fellows in the service.

I certainly have been very fortunate to be stationed here at Miami Beach for so long, and especially during the winter months. From all the letters I receive, I understand that you people have been experiencing a good old-fashioned New England winter, but it has been swell down here.

Well, thanks again for the cigarettes and lots of good luck to you all.

Sincerely

Beetram F. Bullerke
